Tips for a Lab Series Concept Presentation or “Talk-back”

The following questions may be used as prompts when preparing to discuss your show with others:

- What is the name of your show? Playwright? Other background information?
- How did you find this script?
- What is subject matter addressed in this script? What is it about?
- What is the production concept statement?
- What is the theme of this script?
- How do you plan to make this theme identifiable to the audience?
- What was the process of analysis you used and how did it help you?
- How would you describe your working process with the production staff/PM?
- What did you do to prepare before rehearsals?
- What has been the easiest part of directing?
- What has been the hardest part of directing?
- What is one piece of advice you have for future directors?
